

As a residence on my local community, AIR1 offers positive music for people of my age group and also people of other age groups. Most of the music on AIR1 is not played on an other local station. Also the news updates are very informative and are always of interest to me and discuss topics important to me.

If AIR1 were to be displaced, this positive alternative music would simply not be played on the radio. Also the messages about being a better husband (or any family member) and how to deal with family and life situations would not be heard by the many listeners that may need to hear them.

I believe that the services provided by AIR1 are of public interest simply because it is listener supported and consistantly recieves 100% of the support they need (financially) to stay on the air. I think this station is the most positive station that could be on the air for young people.
